

Introduction

16:00 s.t. Welcome and opening remarks

Motion event representation and encoding

16:10 - Weights in motion frames

Michael Herweg

16:30 - Räumliche Konzepte von Bewegungssereignissen in L2 Deutschen-Chinesischen und L2 Deutschen-Englischen

Can ZHANG

16:50 Complex Mandarin motion event descriptions are not serializations of verbs: evidence against the equipollently-framed view

Ziwei Li

Discourse

17:10 Processing marked pragmatic scales with incluso, hasta and even: an eye-tracking study on pragmatic processing in L1 and L2

Iria Bello, Lourdes Torres & Adriana Cruz (DPKog)

17:30 Expectation management in online dialogue understanding: an investigation of Dutch inderdaad ‘indeed’ and eigenlijk ‘actually’

Guest speaker: Geertje van Bergen (Max-Planck Institut für Psycholinguistik)

17:50 Short Break

Language processing - General

18:00 Sind Mutter- und Fremdsprache gleichstark verkörpert? — eine Pupillometrie-Studie über emotionale Reaktivität bei der Verarbeitung mutter- und fremdsprachlicher emotionaler Sätze

Dennis Dirker

18:15 Interpretation and prediction of event participants in Mandarin verb-final sentences – nothing unexpected, but one interesting new finding

Johannes Gerwien

18:35 What do we learn from structural priming in bilinguals?

Sandra Pappert

18:55 Concluding remarks